The section consists of fairly homogenous nannofossil ooze, gray to light olive gray in color. Few discrete bands are present although mottling occurs through the section. Pyrite and small calcareous skeletal fragments are scattered throughout.